THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY is a privately supported, nonsectarian, coeducational, urban university in the heart of the Nation's Capital. In 1821, just a few years after the first President spoke of the need for a university in the capital, this University was founded, and today it is becoming a center for undergraduate, graduate and professional, and postdoctoral and postprofessional students and faculty.

Facts about the University include the following:

Number of Students: 13,000

Geographical Origin: 50 states, 74 countries

Students from Abroad: 360

Number of Undergraduates: 5,300 (81% are full-time)

Percentage from the Washington Area: 20%

Dormitory Space: 2,300

Campus Organizations: 135

Schools and Colleges: Columbian College (liberal arts and sciences); Education; Engineering; General Studies; Government and Business Administration; Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; National Law Center; Medicine; Public and International Affairs

Academic Departments: 57

Degrees Offered: 43

Faculty: 1,600

Total Assets: $82,600,000

Living Alumni: 40,000

Among the alumni are six U.S. Senators, 12 Congressmen, two Governors, five Pulitzer Prize winners, 10 Ambassadors, six University Presidents, and more alumni in top federal executive positions and in the foreign service than from any other college or university.

Ten of the eleven colleges, schools, and divisions of the University and the University Hospital and Cancer Clinic are located within a 19-block area bordered by Pennsylvania Ave., 19th, F, and 24th Sts., N.W. The School of Medicine is at 14th and H Sts., N.W.
